Cabela's Big Game Hunter Pro Hunts crack made by Obtainium.com team!Q: How to register a custom unittest in py.test When doing py.test tests are often registered as functions of the module and the test runner is executed at the end. Is there an equivalent way to run a set of unittest functions before or after the test module? A: You can use `pytest_generate_tests`, it will add a "test_generate_tests" function to the module. In its signature it has no default argument, so you have to pass a keyword argument as first argument to the function. So you have to create a test case with this keyword, this can be done with the `pytest_generate_tests.__name__` (or `pytest_generate_tests`).
