Athentech Perfectly Clear 1.7.0 plugin Photoshop (32 - 64 bit) [iPhone X . Perfectly Clear 1.7.0 plugin Photoshop (32 - 64 bit) A: You are experiencing the "mimic" functionality of the plugin. In this scenario, the plugin wants to protect itself from a software packer, and this is how it does that. To explain it better, here are two scenarios: Your PC has the latest version of the plugin, and a new version is being pushed to the network. The new version is patched, meaning that the old version is either disabled or removed altogether. The plugin now mimics the new version of the plugin, and behaves as it did in the previous version (meaning that it applies the newest changes). Your PC has the latest version of the plugin, and you have the newest version of the plugin. The newest version is not compatible with your plugins (or files) installed in your PC. So, what the plugin does is to act as if it has the old version of the plugin, and mimic the changes done by the newest version of the plugin. The latter is more likely to happen, and it is in fact the reason why the plugin is so slow to open. Now, to answer your question: Are there any other way to resolve this problem, so I could get my plugin faster when I open it (right now it takes me about 5-7 sec to open)? The reason why the plugin opens so slow is because it has to mimic a new version of the plugin, which has not yet been installed. As a solution to the problem, you should make sure you have the latest version of the plugin.

If you do not want to do that, you can use the standalone application to create a backup of your plugin (using the menu at the bottom of the plugin): Go to the Finder Go to the /Users/YourUserName/Library/Application Support/ In the folder that has the name you used when installing the plugin, create a folder (or move your folder) named after your plugin. In that folder, make a copy of the plugin (by renaming it): cp -R Athentech Perfectly Clear 1.7.0 plugin Photoshop (32 - 64 bit) .tmp Close the standalone application Open Photoshop Open the folder you just created Rename the plugin
