The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a confidential counseling and referral service that can help you address life's challenges. EAP Services are available to you at no cost for confidential help with work, family, personal matters, or legal or financial issues. In most cases, your employer will make this service available to you and your family at no direct cost to you. The services are often provided by external EAP providers, and you may get an appointment time and place outside your normal working hours and workplace for greater confidentiality. The number of sessions allowed varies but is usually no less than three separate one-hour sessions. Many programs will extend the sessions up to a maximum of 5-8 sessions per person per year.
