for AVG TuneUp 21 Download.Q: How can I save a bunch of files with space in their names? I have a directory with a bunch of files with weird names like: E:\projects\v1.0.0.0.0_1\work\core\example1.txt E:\projects\v1.0.0.0.0_1\work\core\example2.txt E:\projects\v1.0.0.0.0_1\work\core\example3.txt I want to "clean" the directory and save all files with a standard name like: Any ideas how to achieve this? A: Answering my own question for future reference: Make sure you have the File Renamer utility. Use the batch file renamer.cmd to generate the new filenames. :: Generates a new file name from the source name. @echo off :: Take the source file name and replace it with the name and the same :: number of underscores as there are in the original file name. :: The underscore pattern is taken from the extension of the file. :: The '*' wildcard matches any number of underscores. for /f %%a in ("%~1") do for /f %%b in ("%a.*") do ren "%a%%b" "_%%a%%b_%%a.%%b" Source: Rep. Tom Cotton (R-Ark.) said President Obama should "shut up" in his ongoing response to a barrage of criticism from Mitt Romney and his surrogates. The comments from the junior senator from Arkansas came in response to a question about the Republican Party's platform. It includes a call to deny amnesty to "illegal aliens" and supports "a
