I've got a program that requires the person to put in their username and a password, then it will check to see if those are correct or not, if they are, then it will let them access the site and if it isn't correct it will give them a message to fix it. Now, I have that all done, and it works perfectly fine but what I am having trouble with is that I want the password to be equal to "0" to mean that it doesn't work and I don't want them to see anything. Now is there a way to say that the password is not correct and can someone help me out? Thanks The code if (isset($_POST['username']) && isset($_POST['password'])) { if (mysqli_connect($con, $u, $p)) { $query = "SELECT * FROM $table_name WHERE username = '$_POST[username]' and password = '$_POST[password]' "; $result = $mysqli_conn->query($query); while ($user = $result->fetch_assoc()) { echo ' Username: d4474df7b8
