I have looked up and down the web and documentation, but still cannot seem to find an answer to my problem. I have a function that makes a list of repeating substrings. So, if my input string is "abcc", the function returns ["a", "b", "c", "c"]. It works fine. `def recurs(str): s = "" while (s!= ""): s = s + str[0] for i in range(len(str)): if (len(s) > 1): s = recurs(str[i + 1:]) else: s = str[i] return s` Now, I have to write a function that does the same thing but with a for loop, and I cannot figure out how to do this. Can anyone help me? A: You should never have to repeat yourself. The Python for loop is perfect for these tasks. This is the Python way to iterate over the characters in a string: `def recurs(str): s = ""`
