ABOUT US

Our team delivers decades of combined experience in both the investment and energy industries. With our know-how and a track record of bringing investors and partners together, we deliver scalable growth to each of our portfolio companies. It's possible to achieve inspired environmental, social and governance (ESG) impact without sacrificing financial returns. Wave Equity Partners exists to do just that on behalf of our portfolio companies and our investors.

Industry needs transformation, not disruption

Unlike Software, Industry has large supply chains, physical assets and legacy know-how that need to be brought along in order to address our current and future challenges. Think food, energy, water, and waste management – we need incumbent industries to successfully adopt new technologies, new business models, and new efficient methods. However, scale needs both efficacy and economics. Industry incumbents, supply chains and engineers need transformation, not disruption.
