A veritable cornucopia of treasures- forts, monuments, architectural marvels, and vibrant bazaars! That is exactly how the city of Jaipur would be described. Jaipur, often known as the Pink City, is considered India's first planned city. Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II constructed it in the eighteenth century. Jaipur is known for its architectural splendour, as well as forts, minarets, magnificent palaces, and eye-catching streets. A hot air ballooning in Jaipur, will give you a bird's eye view and reveal how consistently everything is covered in pink. For tourists, culture trippers, literary artists, history buffs, and adventure junkies, the city is a muse. Its endearing 'pinkness' makes it a sensory and aesthetic treat up in the sky. Its awe-inspiring splendour has made people from all over the world etch odes to its glory in their hearts and mind. The winter season (October-March) is the finest time to visit Jaipur. You may learn more about Jaipur and its culture throughout the winter season. Because Diwali is one of the most popular festivals in India, and Jaipur is the best place to enjoy it, as well as the kite festival, which is celebrated in full swing. Holi is especially popular in March, and the city looks like a beautiful colour palette making it a treat for sore eyes. A Hot air balloon ride in Jaipur is an escape from the hustle-bustle of everyday life and immerse oneself in astounding views. You step into the basket, find your balance, and then you're hauled up with an abrupt jerk. Before you even realise it you're floating in the quiet air, your eyes sweeping across the boundless blue in front of you and wide swaths of forts, palaces, and markets below. Fly above Hawa Mahal, Amber Fort and Samode Palace to get a 360-degree view of the Pink City, or stare out at the far-reaching dunes dotted with camels and tents in Pushkar during its 10-day eponymous festival. From above, the golden sands shine with splendour and appear majestic. Feel like a medieval monarch while discovering the historical and breathtaking monuments of the Aravalli Range. The colours, vibrance and culture all make the hot air balloon ride in Rajasthan memorable.

You can book an affordable hot air balloon ride in Jaipur with SkyWaltz Balloon Safaris.

Here are a few places to look out for when you're up in the sky on your balloon trip.

City Palace

The pink-coloured majestic palace in the city centre is clearly the city's showpiece. Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II built this regal palace in 1727. View this UNESCO World Heritage Site from above. It is one of India's most extensive instances of Mughal architecture, blending Indian and Persian influences. A panoramic perspective of this palace allows you to glimpse areas of it that would otherwise be hidden from view from the ground.

Jal Mahal

The Jal Mahal is an archaeological marvel without a doubt. Built in the midst of Man Sagar Lake, four of the five storeys are submerged in water, while the top-level appears to float on the lake's surface. The palace's entrance is restricted. That's when your hot air balloon journey will allow you to explore all the hidden sights!

Hawa Mahal

Hawa Mahal, Jaipur's most famous landmark, is a lattice of 953 tiny windows that resembles a honeycombed hive. It was intended for the royal ladies to observe daily life and festivities celebrated on the streets without being noticed by the general people. From your hot air balloon ride, you can admire the palace in the golden glow of the morning sun.

Nahargarh fort

Resting on the edge of the Aravali hills, the Nahargarh fort exudes the stories of its past and rich history. Overlooking the vast city of Jaipur, the fort stands tall in its grandeur. As your hot air balloon rises up, you can see the walls of the fort that sweep across miles nestled in the lush greenery of the hills.

Jantar Mantar

If astronomy fascinates you, Jantar Mantar should be on your bucket list in Jaipur. This historic astronomy observatory is where you can learn about how people used sundials to tell time. The extensive property contains a collection of architectural astronomical devices that were used for a variety of purposes, such as forecasting dawn and sunset times and determining the location of the pole star in relation to other celestial bodies.

It's not every day that you get to see the sunrise or the sunset from 12,000 feet up. The Pink City Safari begins on September 1st and runs through the first week of April. We can arrange for your hot air balloon excursion in Jaipur. For many years, SkyWaltz Balloon Safaris has offered guided balloon safari experiences. With our affordable package options, you may arrange a hot air balloon flight that lasts around an hour and takes you over the city's most gorgeous landscapes. Skywaltz can be reached via their website, phone, email or even from our google my business page.
